Takou River Lodge, cottages and glamping in the Bay of Islands is the perfect place to indulge in a romantic retreat or relaxing escape. This award-winning luxury eco lodge provides idyllic self-contained accommodation beside the Takou River on a stunning 150 acre organic farm, surrounded by native bush and acres of sub-tropical gardens. Choose from cottages for two to four people, a private glamping experience in the new luxury tented camp or book the main lodge out for a special occasion.

Relax in your own private romantic alfresco claw foot bath perched over the river; wander the flourishing 5 acre sub-tropical gardens and discover the myriad New Zealand native bird life; borrow a kayak from our boathouse to explore the river and paddle downstream to one of Northland's beautiful deserted sandy beaches, discovering deserted swimming and picnic spots and the unique Maori Monument to the Waka Mataatua. Try your hand at fishing in the tranquil Takou River or explore the 150 acre organic farm with marked walks along the river bank, through native bush and along side streams and a waterfall. Indulge in a relaxing massage or spa treatment in the privacy of your cottage, soak in a unique and magically located river bank hot tub, or simply bask in the bliss of doing absolutely nothing... Ideal for small weddings, honeymoons or just a place to stay after a long overseas flight.
